HOW TO SELECT A DRESSFORM SIZE

1. Take your body measurements.
2. Compare your body measurements to size ranges of the dressform body types.
3. Select dressform with adjustment ranges that include your body measurements. You can always expand your dressform to your body size, but you can never make it smaller.

HOW TO TAKE YOUR BODY MEASUREMENTS

1. Ask a friend to take your body measurements.
2. Record measurements on the chart. Wear the shoes and undergarments you normally wear.
3. Pull the tape measure snugly, but not too tightly, around the fullest part of each body area being measured.

MEASUREMENTS

NECK _____ . Measure around base of neck.

BUST _____ . Measure straight across widest part of back, under arms & across fullest part of bust.

WAIST _____ . Tie narrow cord around waist. Bend from side to side to find natural waistline. Measure natural waistline.

HIPS _____ . Measure around fullest part, usually 7"-9" below waist.

BACK WAIST LENGTH _____ . Measure from prominent bone at base of neck to natural waistline.

FULL BODY LENGTH/HEIGHT _____ . Begin at center back, measure from natural waistline to the floor; add waist length measurement.
